New Visions Announces Residential Telephone Service

Syracuse, N.Y. (September 26, 2008) New Visions PLC, Inc. a provider of affordable high-speed broadband solutions, today announced that it has introduced telephone service (K-Phone) for its residential customers.

Carmen N. Branca, Jr. President of New Visions said, "Since the introduction of our highly successful high-speed broadband earlier this year, our customers have been begging us to introduce affordable telephone service that complements our internet offering. The wait is over! Not only are we providing voice service, we are beginning to integrate our services. A customer that subscribes to both of our services will be able to manage their telephone account online, easily changing features with the click of their computer mouse. Not only does our phone service provide the traditional features such as caller-ID, call waiting, speed dialing, voice mail, etc., our standard features include unlimited calling in the U.S. and Canada, anonymous call rejection, find me, do not disturb, and voice mail can also appear as an email on your PC or PDA. All features and more can be managed online. A major difference in our telephone offering vs. cable telephone offering (such as Time Warner) is our telephone service still works if power is lost in your home. We believe this is critical, especially in areas that have limited cell service."
